City Partners with Servus Credit Union to Launch Servus Family Free Skate

Lloydminster, AB/SK – The City of Lloydminster and Servus Credit Union have partnered to provide free public skating on Lloydminster’s indoor ice surfaces.

“The Servus Family Free Skate program will enhance access to public ice surfaces and provide another budget-friendly recreational option for local families,” said Mayor Rob Saunders. “We’d like to thank Servus Credit Union for their continued support of sport, health and wellness in our community.”

Servus Credit Union is sponsoring this program as part of their Community Access initiative that makes it easier for Albertans to enjoy some of the best attractions and activities our province has to offer. “We’re thrilled to be working with the City of Lloydminster on this initiative, and we’re looking forward to seeing everyone out at the rink,” said Servus President and Chief Executive Officer Garth Warner.

Servus has similar partnerships with the Glenbow Museum in Calgary, the Alberta Art Gallery, and the Canalta Centre in Medicine Hat, among others. “Hockey is a huge part of this community so we’re excited to be part of making this opportunity available to local youth and families, and we’re looking forward to seeing them have some fun on Lloydminster’s excellent indoor ice facilities,” said Warner.

The public is invited to attend a launch event on Saturday, April 9, 2016 to kick off the partnership.
