2017 Report to the Community Highlights a Year of Change and Progress

Lloydminster, AB/SK - The City of Lloydminster has unveiled the 2017 Report to the Community, highlighting a year of change, progress and enhanced community engagement.

The 26-page publication includes updated summaries and statistics from key City service areas, including:

- Governance
- Finance
- Development and Growth
- Community Services
- Parks Recreation and Culture
- Family and Community Support Services

"We are pleased to share the 2017 Report to the Community. In our first full year together, this Council has worked cohesively to build on economic progress, improve communication and trust with residents and draft sound policy to maintain services. Through the development of the 2017 - 2021 Strategic Plan we have a clear vision, to build on the groundwork laid in 2017 and create opportunity for growth and prosperity in our community," said Mayor Gerald Aalbers.

In October 2017, Dion Pollard was introduced as City Manager following an organizational restructuring.

"The City of Lloydminster emerged from 2017 a more efficient, responsible and transparent organization that shares a genuine commitment to providing optimal value in City services and programs," said Pollard. "Working closely with City Council, I look forward to continuing the positive momentum established to enhance value and accountability in our municipal services."
